Message Making Decisions that Matter—February Sermon Series:
"Making Godly Choices"

Prayer Station

As you listen to today's focus song consider the importance of adapting in order follow Jesus in today's world. In what ways do you strive to get as close as possible to "hitting the target" of what you believe to be your best response to God? What happens when the church quits striving and adapting toward the high bar set by Jesus?

Focus Song "Hymn for the 81%"

*I grew up in your churches
Sunday morning, evening service
Knelt in tears at the foot of the rugged cross
You taught me every life is sacred feed the hungry, clothe the naked I learned from you the highest law is Love*

*I believed you when you said that I should trust the words in red
To guide my steps through a wicked world
I assumed you'd do the same so imagine my dismay
When I watched you lead the sheep to the wolves*

*You said to love the lost
So I'm loving you now
You said to speak the truth
So I'm calling you out
Why don't you live the words
That you put in my mouth
May love overcome and justice roll down
They started putting kids in cages*

*Ripping mothers from their babies
And I looked to you to speak on their behalf
But all I heard was silence
Or worse you justify it
Singing glory hallelujah raise the flag

Your fear had turned to hatred
But you baptized it with language torn from the pages of the good book
You weaponized religion
And you wonder why I'm leaving
To find Jesus on the wrong side of your walls

Come home
Come home
You're better than this
You taught me better than this*
